

I believe each state should have the right to execute it's own laws governing telephone privacy. I believe a federal law would be fine as long as it did not undermine the state law.